MONKEYPOX
 A rare viral disease that causes a skin rash and flu-like symptoms. It is caused by a virus called monkeypox virus (MPV). The disease is most common in monkeys and other primates, but it can also be transmitted to humans. Symptoms include fever, swollen lymph nodes, muscle aches, and a characteristic skin rash that starts as small bumps and blisters. The rash usually appears 7-14 days after infection and lasts for 2-4 weeks. Monkeypox is not as contagious as smallpox, and most people recover fully within a few weeks.
